Cotecna at Global Grain Conference in Geneva

From November 16 – 18, 2010, Cotecna, one of the world's leading trade inspection, testing and certification companies, will attend the 8th Annual Global Grain Conference in Geneva. Cotecna Trade Services will be an exhibitor and welcomes visitors to its Stand N° 1 to discuss services they may require.

Cotecna Trade Services offers specialized services for grains all along the supply chain such as; crop monitoring, trade finance support, non-GMO traceability, supervision at loading and discharge etc. With a worldwide network of specialists and laboratories that are certified to international and national standards and situated in all key locations around the globe, Cotecna offers testing and analysis services for products ranging from grains, feeding stuff and oil seeds to vegetable oils and fats. Cotecna can thus verify the compliance of contractual terms with regards to the goods traded.

Our inspection services help shippers, traders, end-users and government bodies assess the quality, quantity and integrity of their products. Cotecna can offer bespoke advice in areas concerning all aspects of the grain trade.

Global Grain is the world's premier trading event in the grain calendar and is attended by over 900 delegates from 50 countries. Geneva is an important location for the leading trading companies in grain, oilseeds, soft commodities and energy markets. The exhibition and conference give an opportunity for world grain leaders to discover the latest topics of interest in the commodities sector.

Visit Cotecna at Stand N° 1, to learn more about the services we provide for the Grain sector.
